WILLIAM

CAREY COLLEGE

..... ITS STRENGTH
GROWTH
..... ITS FUTURE

In The Diversity of
Its Members Lies The Strength
of Carey College

Students of William Carey College come bringing different backgrounds, widely diverse experiences, and an assortment of talents and abilities. They are representatives of all races; they are representatives of many cultures. Each student is completely different each contributes something to the whole. For in their diversity, lies strength.

In The Interaction
of Its People Lies The Growth
of Carey
College

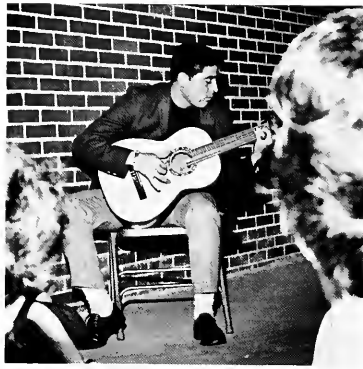

Learning takes place in a constant repetition of interaction, experience, and reconciliation. Students touch the thoughts, ideas and beliefs of others in the collegiate environment. They learn from their teachers, books and from each other the necessity of compromise—they learn the futility of stagnation, and in their interaction lies growth.

In The Acceptance of Each Other Lies The Future
of Carey
College

It is not difficult to see that the student body is made up of a diverse group of people. With very little effort the learning process can be found in all areas of student life. But there is more of William Carey College than the strength and growth of the present. When each person is recognized as a person worthy of respect, and given that respect due him, the potential of Carey College will be fulfilled. For in the acceptance of each other—lies the future.

Dedication

The 1969 CRUSADER is dedicated with much respect and devotion to Mr. Jack Rogers. He has found a magical formula for being, at the same time, both a good teacher and a good friend. He pushes students toward a realization of their fullest potential and motivates them to discover the world around them. He has given us a great deal—qualities like understanding and respect which cannot be measured but will stay with us forever. This dedication is a small attempt to thank him. But, for Mr. Rogers, there will never be thank-you's enough.

DR. J. RALPH NOONKESTER

The President's Message

William Carey College is a unique community. I know this because my family has been a part of this campus for seventeen years. The Noonkesters have lived in the President's Home in the midst of this campus for thirteen years. Our two children have been born here and are growing up among eight hundred young people.

Ours is a cosmopolitan college representing not only numerous states and foreign countries but also all races and representatives of all the major religious denominations. There are young people from families of the very poor and the very rich in our midst.

We affirm, because we know it to be true, that in the diversity of its members lies the strength of Carey College, in the interaction of people lies the growth of Carey College, and in the acceptance of each other lies the future of Carey College.

DR. J. RALPH NOONKESTER, Sponsor

Chief executives of the forty clubs and honoraries found at William Carey College compose the Organization of Campus Presidents, a rather loosely-structured group designed to maintain lines of communication between the Student Government, the administration, and the organizations. Employed recently to mobilize student groups for participation in Homecoming, in behalf of the March of Dimes, and for the improvement of social life on campus, the Organization of Campus Presidents serves as a unifying force for widely diverse student interests.

ANTIGONE presents in dramatic style the age-old conflict between individual virtue and social control. Antigone, representing an individual motivated by a desire to achieve what is morally right, is forced into conflict with Creon who is limited by his own position as ruler to recognize and do only what is politically expedient. The result of this conflict is the death of Antigone.

The 1968-69 Crusader Basketball team, under the direction of head coach John O'Keefe, and assistant coach John Stephenson, is practically the same with the exception of one addition. Hours of long practice and hard work have helped the Crusaders produce one of their best seasons yet, finishing the season with a 18-5 record. They toppled such teams as Millsaps, Pensacola Navy, and Livingston University. Winning the Denominational Tourney held at Belhaven College and only losing one home game are fine examples of the will to win that our ball club exhibited this season. Leading to the locker room is a sign "KANSAS CITY HERE WE COME"—Our hopes are high for the Crusaders.

Cheerleaders 1968-1969

School spirit, the attitude that must be felt throughout the entire student body, has been better this year than ever before. The Carey College Cheerleaders make every effort to instill the feeling of spirit at every game. This year the cheerleaders, composed of four girls and two young men have put in many hours of diligent practice to lead the student body at ball games. They have sponsored bonfires to ignite the Crusader spirit before games and are frequently called upon to entertain in assembly periods. A faithful group, the 1968-69 Cheerleaders aided by several spirited groups of students and the Crusader pep band have livened up the entire representation of our college at ball games.

Baseball 1968-1969

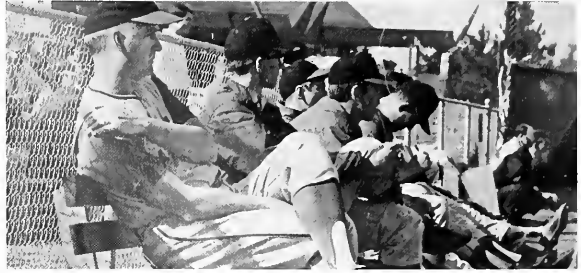

Co-Captains Bobby Eades and Dale Willis.

The 1968-69 William Carey College Baseball team, coached by John O'Keefe has a very good outlook on this season. Many new players, freshmen and transfers, will be filling vacancies left by some of last years members. The capabilities exhibited by this years team shows high hopes of taking a trip to the NAIA Regional Tournament and finally to St. Joseph, Missouri later on in the year.

Home runs bore me sometime.

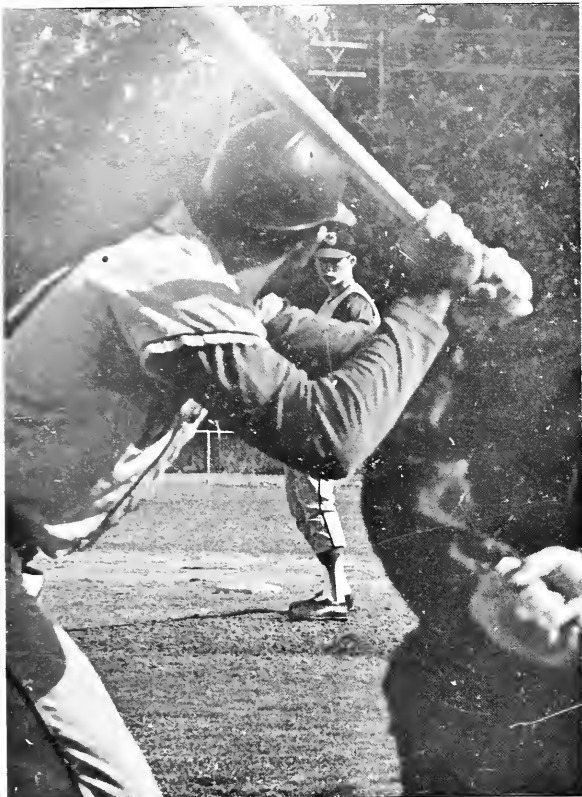

Too late, mister.

BASEBALL

Could a look become a strike?

Count the balls—Measure the enthusiasm.

That's all effort and desire . . . and hope.

Form to spare.
